Rapid Transit

I have trapped
ten spiders
in a jar
that i will feed honey
to make their webs stick
and steel
to make their webs strong,
In ten years,
they will weave the
slow
bright
bridge
to you.
It will take the toll
of many lives
lived
to love you,
still
